Grenada City Schools Opened Monday, Sept. 10

New High School Building Formally Dedicated by Charles Charles Hillman Brough, a Native Mississippian and a Former Governor of Arkansas. Short Talks Made on Behalf of Various Organizations and Groups. Splendid Enrollment. List of Faculty.

The Grenada City Schools opened for the 1923-24 session Monday, Sept. 10, with an enrollment of 641, 152 of which are in the high school. The Parent-Teachers Association kept "open house" in the new high school building all day long and a steady stream of visitors was shown through the building. That afternoon a reception was given for the teachers so that the patrons of the school might know those who are charged with the important duty of instructing their children. There are several new members among the faculty this year and a great many of the former teachers are back again. The following is the list of teachers in all departments and there is no doubt that the faculty of the Grenada schools is one of the strongest in the state:

Superintendent, John Rundle; Principal of High School Department and Hall, Mrs. Willie May Dubard; High Shool Science and Director of Athletics, Elmer P. Barr; English, Miss Isabel Sternberger; Mathematics, Miss Whitfield Pitts; History and French, Miss Charles Hester; Latin, Miss Mabel Suber; Home Science, Mrs. Elmer P. Barr; Music, Voice, Piano and Violin, Miss Ina Joe Auman; Commercial, Miss Carrie H. Malone; Principal of Elementary School and 6th Grade, Miss Lizzie Horn; Eighth Grade, Miss Nannie Lou Hamilton; Seventh Grade, Miss Beatrice Temple; Sixth and Seventh Grades, Miss Grace Kibler; Fifth Grade, Miss Annie Strahan; Fifth Grade, Miss Nancy Halbert; Fourth Grade, Miss Irma Bailey; Third Grade, Mrs. H. O. Thompson; Second Grade, Miss Georgia Cook First and Second Grades, Miss Fannie May Cason; First Grade and Primary, Miss Allean Calhoun.

Monday evening at 7:30, the doors of the new auditorium were thrown open so that the public might attend the exercises formally dedicating the new building. The program was purposely delayed, it is thought, so that the audience might have a few minutes in which to adjust itself after viewing the magnificence of the place. The first thing that struck one's eye upon entering was the beautiful green velvet curtain on the stage donated to the schools by the Parent-Teachers Association. Next the commodiousness of the room, which has a seating capacity of 750, greater than that of any gathering place in Grenada. The seats are unusually sturdy and one may sit comfortably in them for an indefinite period. They are so arranged that a good view may be had from any seat in the auditorium of what is taking place on the stage. There was a splendid crowd present for the occasion and promptly at eight o'clock, after an overture by the Grenada Orchestra, the curtain was drawn.

Prof. John Rundle, Superintendent, in a few brief words welcomed the visitors and extended a cordial invitation to them to visit the schools at any time. He stated that the occasion marked the achievement of a long-cherished ambition in the hearts of those who had at heart the best interests of the school children of this and future generations and that he felt highly proud of the realization of that ambition, which, he said, was a notable step in the advancement of the cause of education. He gave proper credit to the Board of Trustees, to the City Council, to the Parent-Teacher Association and to the taxpayers of Grenada whose vote and whose money made the construction of such a building possible. Mr. Rundle stated that the new building would be known as the high school and that the other building would be called the elementary school and he said that anyone found guilty of calling the latter "the old building" would be subject to arrest. He next introduced in order Mr. J. B. Perry, President of the Board of Trustees, Mrs. N. J. Carothers, President of the Parent-Teachers Association, Dr. J. R. Countiss, President of the Grenada College for young women and Rev. Mellville Johnson, Pastor of the Methodist Church, each of whom delivered three-minute talks on behalf of the trustees, parent-teachers, the college and pastors, respectively. After two beautifully rendered solos, one by Rev. R. W. Emerson, Rector of All Saints Church, and the other by Miss Ina Joe Auman, the new Music Director for the schools, Mr. Rundle presented the speaker of the evening, Charles Hillman Brough, ex-governor of Arkansas. He stated that when another state wanted a really great man for a position of responsibility, it came to Mississippi to get him and when Arkansas wanted a sure-enough governor, she came to Mississippi for Charles Hillman Brough. He said that he was glad to welcome Gov. Brough back to his native heath and that he felt that it was indeed an honor to have him consent to formally dedicate a building whose completion meant so much to the town.

The subject of Governor Brough's address might rightly be called "Mississippi's Position and America's Position in World Affairs" or "Mississippi's Contribution and America's Contribution to World Greatness." He spoke for an hour and a half and held the close attention of his audience throughout his speech. He commenced by congratulating Grenada on having at the helm of its educational facilities, Prof. Rundle, a man whom he said he considered as one of the foremost school men of the state. He said that he had known Mr. Rundle intimately for years while he was serving other schools in other towns and it had never been his privilege to know of a better qualified man for his place. He said that it was a great pleasure for him and that he considered it an honor to be asked to dedicate Grenada's school building. He congratulated the town upon its step forward in education and said that he thought education of its children should be the first consideration of any people. He went on to enumerate the numbers of great men that Grenada and the State of Mississippi had given to the nation. He spoke of what the development of Glenwild Plantation meant to the people of Grenada County and said that it was an estate that rivalled the older famous showplaces of the wealthy over the the country and that it was a great advertisement for the entire state as well as for Grenada and this county. He talked of the banking facilities enjoyed by the community and of its being the home of the parent bank of a great system. He gave some interesting facts on the wealth of the United States, of the excess of its exports over its imports, of its contributions to the world in statesmanship, in war, in literature, in music, in art and he also mentioned its contribution in athletics and sports, stating that he knew that many would disagree with him on the importance of the latter but that he felt that it was something that should not be neglected in the upbringing of the youth of a country. He went on to tell what he thought would help in developing the state and bringing it to the forefront among its sister states.

Governor Brough's utterances showed that he was a student and a thinker. His presentation of historical facts and statistics was remarkable; his knowledge of world events and happenings today and in the past indicated in a small degree the wealth of information and knowledge that he has stored away in his mind which he apparently recalls with little ease. His address was pleasing and his ability as an orator is rarely excelled. He quoted poetry where poetry was needed and the anecdotes he told fitted aptly into his theme. Grenada thoroughly enjoyed Governor Brough's coming and he may be sure of a cordial welcome upon his next visit to the town.

After the close of his address, Dr. W. P. Ferguson made a three-minute talk on behalf of the city council and Mr. C. E. Lockett, who constructed the building, spoke for a few minutes. The exercises closed with the singing of the national anthem and invocation by Rev. R. W. Emerson.

COMMUNITY DEEPLY SHOCKED BY DEATH OF J. M. BROWN

A Good Man and Splendid Citizen Stricken Suddenly Saturday Afternoon. Funeral Services Sunday Afternoon.

A distinct pall of gloom was cast over the town last Saturday afternoon when it became known that Joseph M. Brown had been claimed by the angel of death. Not for a long time has Grenada been so shocked. Mr. Brown was on the streets of Grenada that morning and appeared to be in his usual good health. He ate a very hearty dinner at noon and went back to his office to work that afternoon. About 2:30 he phoned his brother, Dr. T. J. Brown, that he was coming up to his office for relief from an attack of indigestion which he felt coming on. He came to town in the car with his daughter, Mrs. Revell, took some medicine and, after attending to a few business matters drove home. He lived only a few minutes after reaching home. Every effort was made to revive him but to no avail. God had called him and he had answered the summons.

In the passing of Joe Brown, Grenada has lost one of its best and most useful citizens. He was ever alive to the best interests of the town and stood foursquare behind any movement which he thought would be for its betterment. And when he thought a proposition was wrong he was unreservedly against it and could be relied upon to stand up for his convictions. He was a man whose honor and integrity have never been questioned and he believd in applying and did apply the golden rule in his business as well as in his private life. His word could be absolutely depended on. He was a tender and devoted husband, a kind and loving father and a true and loyal friend.

He was always willing to give more than he asked. He was charitable in his judgments and just in his conclusions. He was dependable in all things. He never betrayed a friend nor proved unfaithful to any trust or confidence. He stood for those things as a citizen that will bear the test of the ages. He was thoughtful of those in distress or sorrow and, without ostentation, shared what was committed to him to comfort them and alleviate their need. He made it a point to say and do those things that encourage and lend hope in his own particular way and always at the needed moment.

The writer of these lines esteemed him as a true and sincere friend—he had shown his friendship in divers instances—and his heart ached with those of the distressed household when he learned that Joe Brown had been taken away.

Mr. Brown was a member of the First Baptist Church in Grenada and was one of its most faithful and active workers. He contributed liberally to its causes. So sincerely did he believe in the doctrines of that faith that it would have been impossible for him to have reconciled himself to any other intrepretation of Holy Writ.

He was also one of the leaders of the Masonic Lodge in Grenada and, at the time of his death, was Junior Warden of the Grenada Lodge. He attended meetings regularly and if ever a man lived up to Masonic ideals and principles, Joe Brown did. He was one of the foremost advocates of a new Masonic Temple for Grenada and was one of the instigators of the movement now on for the erection of the building.

He was born near Coffeeville, in Yalobusha County, June 19, 1873, being the son of Wm. L. and Martha Garner Brown. He was the youngest of four sons, the others surviving him. He was barely seven years of age when his father died in 1880 and was hence denied the paternal comradeship enjoyed by many. His mother moved to Grenada in 1888 and since that time, with the exception of three years spent in Natchez as manager of the Union Seed and Fertilizer Co. at that place, Mr. Brown had resided here. His first employment was with the Union Seed & Fertilizer Co., then the Mississippi Cotton Oil Co., and he was the manager of the Grenada mill at the time of its closing. At the time of his death, he was the proprietor of two businesses in Grenada, the Jay-Em-Bee Coal Co. and the Grenada Feed Milling Co. He kept in constant touch with every detail of his work and was thoroughly familiar with his business from every angle. He was continually reading and studying and his mind was a storehouse of valuable and useful information and knowledge worth while.

He was married Feb. 14, 1901 to Miss Lizzie Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Perry, and to this union was born one daughter, now Mrs. T. B. Revell, Jr., who survives with her mother to mourn his loss

Funeral services were conducted from the residence on Third Street Sunday afternoon at five o'clock by Rev. N. W. P. Bacon, formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church in Grenada, now pastor at Itta Bena. The preacher paid a deservedly beautiful tribute to the deceased and spoke of his work in the church and his dealings with his fellowmen. At the cemetery, the Masons took charge of the ceremony and after their services, all that was mortal of Joe Brown was laid to rest under a mound banked high with floral offerings from many of his friends and loved ones, there to await the Resurrection morn where he will again meet those near and dear to him.

There were a great many friends from out of town to attend the funeral and the following relatives, all cousins except the first, a brother: W. J. Brown, of Gulfport, Dr. E. C. Ham, Clarence Garner, E. A. Meaders and Miss Helen Avent, of Memphis, B. G. Wright, of Water Valley, and Mrs. H. F. Simpson, of Oxford.

Besides his wife and daughter, he leaves three brothers, Dr. T. J. Brown, of Grenada, W. J. Brown, of Gulfport, and J. G. Brown, of Hattiesburg, as well as other relatives, to all of whom The Sentinel extends sincerest and deepest sympathy.

H. C. BEASLEY PASSES AWAY.

Mr. H. C. Beasley died Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and his remains were interred Tuesday morning at Odd Fellows Cemetery after services conducted at the Methodist Church by the pastor, Rev. Mellville Johnson, assisted by Rev. W. E. Farr, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The ceremonies at the grave were in charge of Grenada Lodge No. 31, F. & A. M., of which Mr. [illegible]ley had long been a member.

Mr. Bea[illegible] was born December 3, 1870 in C[illegible]h County. He was married in 190[illegible] the good woman who survives with [illegible]rown son to mourn his loss. They [illegible]e to Grenada in 1904 and have resided here since that time. Mr. Beasley, up until a few months ago, was superintendent of the Grenada Oil Mills Grenada mill and was forced to give up his work on account of his physical condition. He had been suffering for years from a stroke of paralysis which was the primary cause of his death. In spite of his affliction, he had carried on and bore up remarkably well considering the state of his health. Many a man, more strong, would have given up the struggle long ago but Mr. Beasley's courage and his indomitable will would not let him surrender. He had early in life united with the Methodist Church and was one of the most regular and faithful attendants on its services. He put his trust in God and, through all his years of disability, his faith and confidence in the Divine Creator never wavered. Up until a short time before his death, he could have been seen almost any day on the streets of Grenada and many marveled at his fortitude and patience in keeping up the fight when it seemed that the odds were all against him. Mr. Beasley seemed to feel that if he once gave up and took to his bed that the end would not be far off. He was forced to go to bed, however, just a few days ago and God ended his long years of suffering by taking him on to his heavenly home where he is awaiting the coming of his dear loved ones who are left behind.

Besides his wife and one son, Conrad, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. W. H. Beasley, of Rockport, four sisters, Mesdames L. H. Featherston, of Hazelhurst, R. P. Dunn, of Greenville, J. D. King, of Natalbany, La. and Jack Conrad, of Tupelo, and two brothers, Lewis Beasley, of Sumrall, and J. W. Beasley, of Pelahatchie, to whom The Sentinel tenders its condolence and sympathy.

REV. W. E. FARR BACK FROM EUROPEAN TRIP

Rev. W. E. Farr, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has just reached home after an absence of two and half months which time was spent touring the European continent and Egypt and Palestine. Mr. Farr attended the Baptist Convention of the World in Stockholm, Sweden and after its adjournment visited other foreign countries. Commencing next Sunday, for three of four Sunday evening services, he will relate his experiences and observations during his trip and his messages can be counted on to be interestingly given.

While away Mr. Farr visited England, Ireland, Scotland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Egypt, Palestine and Greece. His experiences were wonderful and varied and he has promised to write for The Sentinel a detailed account of the trip. His letter will be [illegible] in an early issue of this paper.

Slow Response to Appeal For Japanese Relief

Grenada Not Holding Up Her Reputation for Liberality Toward the Distressed. Japanese Stricken by Worst Catastrophe in History of World. Funds and Food Needed to Relieve Sufferings of Nations. Contributions to be Forwarded to Red Cross.

It will be remembered that in last week's Sentinel, it was stated that this paper would be glad to handle any contributions to the Japanese Relief Fund which is being raised over this country for the aid of the inhabitants of that country which has recently been torn by earthquake, fire, windstorm and wave—the like of which has never before been experienced by any people on earth. The Japs are in sore distress and they need help—this nation always has done her full share toward alleviating the sufferings of other nations and it will not fail to do so now.

Grenadians should respond to the call and make their contributions as large as possible; so far only one has made any response to the appeal in last week's paper. Others want to contribute and they should do so NOW. Don't put if off; send in your check for one, two, three, five, ten or twenty dollars or more. Acknowledgment of the amount will be made through the columns of The Sentinel and the money will be promptly forwarded to the proper authorities.

The Sentinel is starting it off with $5.00 and Dr. J. W. Young has contributed his check for $2.50. Who'll be the next? Put yourself in the Jap's place—what would you think of a people who would not help you? This is an act of mercy and not one of charity. Let's put Grenada over the top right away.

The Southern Division of the American Red Cross today issued instructions to all local chapters in the South to be prepared to receive and transmit to Division Headquarters donations received for the relief of Japanese earthquake sufferers, following an appeal issued by President Coolidge asking for public contributions for relief, to be handled by the Red Cross.

It is interesting to note that in donating $100,000 to the relief fund, yesterday, the National American Red Cross is paying a debt of gratitude to Japan of long standing, for immediately upon receipt of word of the San Francisco earthquake in 1906, the Japanese Red Cross contributed $100,000 for relief and rendered conspicuous service in minimizing human suffering.

The quarterly conference of Field Representatives in session this week at Atlanta expressed sympathy for the Japanese sufferers this morning, and heartily endorsed the action of National Headquarters in extending all possible aid to the stricken people.

The telegram received by the Division from National Headquarters stated that at present no plans are being made to send relief units and it is hoped the situation can be handled through the Japanese Red Cross. The money raised by public subscription will be turned over to that organization to be used for the relief work. If later developments demand it, relief units will probably be made up by the Red Cross in the country and dispatched to the devastated area.

An appeal to the Generous-hearted people of the State of Mississippi:

The State Advisory Committee of the Red Cross hereby appeals to every human individual to give as liberally as conditons permit to relieve the present suffering famine and epidemic in Japan. Hundreds of thousands of human beings are now in want for the necessities of life. famine stalks abroad through the entire land and death from starvation is falling upon the people of the land from infancy to old age.

The quota for the State of Mississippi is only $20,000.00, small when the immensity of the disaster and the need of the moment is considered, and this has been pro-rated among the various counties and local chapters of the Red Cross.

This is both an appeal to humanity and our recognition of the prompt and generous response made by Japan upon the occasion of a similar disaster in our own land at San Francisco, having made the first and the largest contribution of any nation.

Japan appeals to the loving kindness of the people of Mississippi. We are sure they will not be found wanting in a prompt and sufficient response to a call which means the saving of human lives, prevents the spread of disaster, and protects so many of the residents of that afflicted land.

We call upon every newspaper of the State to publish this appeal, in full; we request every Bank in this State to place a copy of this appeal, together with a subscription list, on its counters; we request the Churches of the State to join us in this effort, and we request the School Teachers of the State to ask for contributions from the student bodies in every school of the State on Friday, September 21st. Remittances should be made through the local chapter of the Red Cross, and reports made to Mrs. Mary Malone Moore, Secretary, Jackson, Miss.

Signed by: R. H. Douthat, Chairman, John Sharp Williams, Yazoo City, Judge Jefferson Truly, Fayette, Dr. J. M. Buchanan, Meridian, Dr. W. S. Leathers, Jackson, Dr. F. [illegible] Underwood, Jackson, Mrs. Rucks Ferger, Gulfport, Mrs. Shelby Steele, Greenwood, Capt. Curtis Green, Jackson, N. Vicks Robbins, Vicksburg.

More for Your Money

Swapping things—as when our grandmothers traded eggs for calico at the cross-roads store—gives a better understanding of values. By measuring one thing against another we too can often judge values more clearly.

Coal and wages make up more than half the manufacturing cost of cement.

The chart above shows price fluctuations for portland cement, coal and wages during the past ten years. In each case 100 is used to represent 1913 figures, by the Government departments which compiled these statistics.

Translated into "eggs and calico" language, this chart shows that a ton of coal would buy nearly twice as much cement in 1922 as in 1913. A day's wages also would buy more cement in 1922 than in 1913.

This means that even though coal and wages make up more than half its manufacturing cost, cement is now relatively lower in price than either coal or wages.

So, considering these increased costs, it is plain that in buying cement you get more for your money than before.

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 16

LUKE, THE BELOVED PHYSICIAN

LESSON TEXT—Luke 1:1-4; Acts 1: 1; Acts 16:9-15; Col. 4:14; II Tim. 4:11.

GOLDEN TEXT—"A friend loveth at all times and a brother is born for adversity."—Prov. 17:17.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Luke, Paul's Friend.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Luke Helped Paul.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Luke's Contribution to Christianity.

I. Luke the Historian (Luke 1:15; cf. Acts 1:1).

Luke was a writer of great distinction. His style is clear and picturesque. The pieces of writing left us are the Gospel of Luke and the Acts. According to Acts 1:1, the gospel was written to set down in order the things which Jesus began to do and to teach, and Acts 1:3 to show what the risen and ascended Lord was continuing to do and to teach. While here on earth He only began to do and to show certain things, but from His place of glorious exaltation, He is continuing His mighty work by the Holy Spirit through the disciples. Concerning the contents of the gospel, he asserts first, that the source of his information was recorded statements of eye witnesses. He assures us that these statements have been verified by him. Second, that he had made a systematic statement of these facts in order to strengthen the faith of his friend, Theophilus.

II. Luke the Beloved Physician (Col. 4:14).

He evidently was a skilled physician as his descriptions of the diseases which Jesus cured shows. His description of the symptoms of the diseases shows his capability. It was left to the physician to portray with vivid exactness the virgin birth by means of which the Eternal Son became Incarnate. He was not only skillful but tenderly sympathetic. This sympathy is shown in his portrayal of the Great Physician in His compassion for the poor, helpless and suffering people. What untold good a skillful and sympathetic Christian physician can do! No one gets so closely into touch with human life as a doctor.

III. Luke the Companion of Paul (Acts 16:9-15).

1. Paul's Need of a Physician. There is clear evidence that Paul had some physical ailment which made the service of a skillful physician most desirable. When the call came to go to Europe with the gospel, Luke joined Paul and became one of his most helpful companions. This is one example of what a faithful Christian physician can do.

2. Luke's Fidelity. "Only Luke is with me." He was no mere faraway friend. He stood by Paul in storm and calm. Paul was now in the cold jail awaiting execution. What a great comfort it must have been to know that this faithful physician was with him. He was with him at Philippi, Miletus, Jerusalem, Caesarea, before Felix and Festus, on the voyage to Rome, with him in the Roman jail, through the Roman trial, and perhaps a spectator of his execution. It cost Luke a great deal to do this, but he no doubt considered it a labor of love, even feeling the call of God as really as Paul. Nothing is known of Luke after Paul's death. Tradition has some interesting things to say, but no word of certainty.

Courage.

Fear God, and take your own part. There's Bible in that, young man; see how Moses feared God, and how he took his own part against everybody who meddled with him. And see how David feared God, and took his own part. . . . So fear God, young man, and never give in! The world can bully, and is fond, provided it sees a man in a kind of difficulty, of getting about him, calling him coarse names, and even going so far as to hustle him; but the world, like all bullies, carries a white feather in its tail, and no sooner sees the man taking off his coat, and offering to fight its best, than it scatters here and there, and is always civil to him afterwards.—Borrow.

When a Man Gets Angry.

The man of patience and of righteous purpose accomplishes something worth while when he gets angry. Every ounce of his energy is gathered and directed toward a good result. It is the moral steam controlled and made to hit a definite piston that sends this old world upward and onward.

Blind Fanaticism.

The blind fanaticism of one foolish honest man may cause more evil than the united efforts of twenty rogues.—Grimm.

Forgiveness or Sin.

Said General Oglethorpe to Wesley, "I never forgive." "Then I hope, sir," said Wesley, "you never sin."

Forgiveness.

Two persons cannot long be friends if they cannot forgive each other's little failings.—Bruyere.

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 23

TIMOTHY A GOOD MINISTER OF CHRIST JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:1-3; Phil. 2:19-22; II Tim. 1:1-6; II Tim. 3:14-15.

GOLDEN TEXT—"Be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity."—I Tim. 4:12.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Boy Who Loved the Bible.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Timothy, Paul's Helper.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Timothy Trained to Serve.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Christian Ministry as a Life Work.

I. Timothy's Parentage (Acts 16:1).

His father was a Greek and his mother a believing Jewess. On his mother's side at least, he had a godly ancestry. Usually the mother makes the son. Two generations of maternal pious grandmothers were back of Timothy. How thankful we ought to be to God for a godly ancestry. Christian heredity and training constitute the essential elements for a Christian life.

II. Timothy's Training (II Tim. 1:5; II Tim. 3:14-15).

His wise and faithful mother and grandmother carefully nurtured him in God's Word. He knew the Scriptures from his childhood through their training. The faith which came to him from his grandmother through his mother did not come through the laws of heredity, but through careful training and teaching. Grace is not reasoned by the laws of heredity. The factors involved in his training were godly ancestors, a Christian home, and a diligent study of the Scriptures.

III. Timothy's Call (Acts 16:1-3).

While on Paul's second missionary journey in company with Silas, Timothy was found at Lystra near Derbe. Perhaps he had been converted on Paul's first missionary journey, but hearing a favorable report of him by the brethren, Paul took and circumcised him so as not to offend the Jews, because his father was a Greek. This was not contrary to the decision of the Jerusalem council. It was a case where conciliation could be made without compromise of truth. From this time to the end of Paul's life, he and Timothy were boon companions. They were as a loving father and a dutiful son.

IV. Timothy's Character Reticent.

1. Of a Retiring Disposition. II Tim. 1:6. Timothy had received a gift from God at the hands of the apostle, but it needed to be stirred up, that is, fanned into a flame. Such a temperament would mature in touch with a great personality like Paul. It is highly important that everyone store up the gift which God has given unto him.

2. Courageous. II Timothy 2:1-8. Having been stirred up, he was freed from the spirit of fear and delfberately identified himself with Paul in his sufferings and trial. Courage is greatly needed in doing the Lord's work.

3. Faithful. He tarried in the difficult field of Ephesus through many years. He was the only man of the needed fidelity to minister to the Philippians. (Philippians 2:20). The secret of his faithfulness in such a position was his fidelity to the Word of God.

V. Timothy's Ministry.

1. As a fellow-missionary with Paul. (Phil. 2:22).

2. As pastor of a church at Ephesus. Here he labored for many years tactfully meeting the difficulties of that great church. The Christian minister should believe in the Scriptures as God's Word and be able to rightly divide it so as to meet the needs of those who hear him. This is the only way to meet the difficulties that arise in the pastor's labors.

All Due to Christianity.

We live in the midst of blessings, till we are utterly insensible of their greatness, and of the source from which they flow. We speak of our civilization, our arts, our freedom, our laws, and forget entirely how large a share of all is due to Christianity. Blot Christianity out of the page of man's history, and what would his laws have been?—what his civilization? Christianity is mixed up with our very being and our daily life; there is not a familiar object round us which does not wear its mark, not a being or a thing which does not wear a different aspect, because the light of Christian hope is on it, not a law which does not owe its truth and gentleness to Christianity, not a custom which cannot be traced, in all its holy and healthful parts, to the Gospel.

Responsibilities.

Responsibilities gravitate to the person who can shoulder them and power flows to the man who knows how.—Hubbard.

Avoid Making Enemies.

Those whom you cannot make friends of, avoid making enemies.—Epicurus.

The Weak.

The weak may be joked out of anything but their weakness.—Zimmermann.

Construction Day by Day

So great and so constant is the growth of demand for telephone service that the Bell System invests throughout the country an average of three-quarters of a million dollars every working day for new telephone plant.

New aerial lines are always under construction or extension, new subways are being dug and cables laid, larger building accommodations are under way, more switchboards are in process of building or installation, and added facilities of every description being mustered into service to care for the half million or more new subscribers linked to the System every year.

This nation-wide construction, this large expenditure of funds, could not be carried out efficiently or economically by unrelated, independent telephone organizations acting without co-operation in different sections of the country. Neither could it be carried out efficiently or economically by any one organization dictating from one place the activities of all. In the Bell System all the associated companies share common manufacturing and purchasing facilities which save millions of dollars annually. They share scientific discoveries and inventions, engineering achievements, and operating benefits which save further millions. But the management of service in each given territory is in the hands of the company which serves that territory and which knows its needs and conditions.

By thus combining the advantages of union and co-operation with the advantages of local initiative and responsibility, the Bell System has provided the nation with the only type of organization which could spend with efficiency and economy, the millions of dollars being invested in telephone service.

Approximately $800,000 will be expended in Mississippi during 1923 for new additions to your telephone system.

DISFRANCHISE THE MOONSHINER

From almost every nook and corner of Mississippi comes the complaint about the iniquitous work of the maker of moonshine whiskey and the drunkenness as a result therof.

Granting that there may have been, and still may be, honest differences of opinion as to the wisdom of the present prohibition law, there is no other course open to the good citizen except to stand square for the enforcement of the law as it is written. Any other course breeds anarchy, community broils, burglary, theft and murder.

It is a bit remarkable how long and how successfully some of the moonshiners ply their nefarious business. But when one comes to think about it, he readily sees much to make him understand this. In the first place, he realizes that those who buy it are not going to report to the authorities. He sees, too, that the law-abiding, peaceloving people of a community naturally stand in dread of any man who deliberately defies both the laws of his state and of the Nation and are therefore loath to take any active part in apprehending him. One of the chief causes that brought about the death knell of the saloon was the fact that a vast majority of the saloonkeepers disregarded every mandate of good society and the crystallized religious sentiment of the land. It got to the point that it almost seemed that when one embarked in the saloon business, he linked his fate with gamblers, harlots and everything in a community that tended to undermine its better life and to destroy the very foundations of good citizenship.

What was true of the saloon is no less true of the maker of moonshine whiskey today. The moonshiner toils not neither does he spin. He spends his greatest energy in doing nothing and in aiding everybody else who will in doing worse than nothing by putting their feet in the road to hell.

The next legislature would do a great work if it would enact a law that would permanently disfranchise the man or the woman convicted in either the state or federal courts of making whiskey or of selling same. This would as nearly as possible place the brand upon them that was placed by the Almighty on Cain.

The moonshiner usually makes himself rather prominent in his bailiwick. He is among the first at the polls and lingers long round about. Disfranchise him and he becomes in a measure an outcast, and loses much of his potency for evil. It is time for the application of drastic remedies. The man who makes or sells whiskey under present conditions is unfit to take any part in the administration of the government. For the sake of the boys and the young manhood and the young womanhood, he should be made a political outcast. Brand him.

NO BETTER THAN WORST MILE

A small dog, barking loudly, chased madly after a passing express train up a country railroad station platform.

"What makes him run after it?" asked a traveler of the station agent, owner of the dog.

"I dunno," answered the agent, thoughtfully. "But that never bothered me so much as what will he do with it if he catches it!"

There are many communities which talk loudly about the need of good roads, the value of good roads, the use of good roads. They talk themselves into a bond issue, or a road tax, and build, one, two, ten miles of good roads. Too often these miles neither begin anywhere, nor end anywhere; do not connect with any good road at either end. Travelers wonder what they will do with their good roads now they have caught them?

There is no magic in a few miles of paved highways. The farmer who must haul produce through mud to get to a paved highway, and over ruts and stones after leaving it to get to market, experiences no real economy. The economy and benefit of improved highways comes when they are improved for all their length. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link. A regiment is no faster than its slowest soldier. A road, for economy of horse flesh or motor capacity is no more economical than its worst mile.

OBSERVE THE LAW

Observe the law. Do not permit yourself to contemplate even a slight infraction of the law, for the example you set may cause some one else to commit a more serious violation, and this may spread to such an extent that your community may be recognized as a lawless one, in which capital will not feel justified in locating. Force others to respect the law, not only by obeying it yourself, but by upholding the officers of the law in every way you can. We have fallen into the habit of ignoring our duty in this respect, because we have been afraid that it might affect our business. I have come to the conclusion that we are suffering more by not taking a part in politics and law enforcement than we would if we did because industries will not locate in our midst if we are indifferent to these important bearings upon our social and business life. One most effective way to do this is to serve on juries. We always plead too much business when we are asked to serve as jurors, but how hopeless we feel when we are in court, and the other business man is too busy to be bothered with our affairs. "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" is the one guide for your conduct and the rule by which you should judge the actions of others.—A. D. Simpson in The Mississippi Banker.

THE MISSISSIPPI FREE LANCE.

We received this week the prospectus of "The Mississippi Free Lance," a weekly newspaper being launched in Jackson by Ex-Governor Theo. G. Bilbo, recently defeated candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. J. R. Oliphant, connected at one time with "The Issue," Vardaman's paper at Jackson, now defunct, is to be the managing editor while Bilbo is to be business manager. The motto of the Mississippi Free Lance is "Nothing But The Truth," truth about all matters affecting the welfare of Mississippi.

If Governor Bilbo is to perform any of the editorial duties of the paper and if he can write as well as he can speak, the paper can be counted on to contain much entertaining and interesting reading.

Gox.-Elect Whitfield paints a fearfully dark picture of Mississippi but none too dark unless our people wake up and face about in thought, and as to expenditures both private and public.

OUR COTTON CROP AND AUTOMOBILES

Grenada County has in round numbers 700 automobiles licensed. Figuring these cars at an average price of $600; we see that Grenada County people have $420,000. invested in cars and trucks. The consensus of opinion is that Grenada County's cotton crop this year will be about 3,000 bales. Figure the cotton and cotton seed at $175. per bale, we find that our cotton crop amounts to $525,000.

The gasoline and up-keep of the cars will average $20. per month, or $240. per year, thus we see that the up-keep and gasoline bill for the 700 cars amounts to $168,000, and that our total car investment for the year is $588,000. Somebody may want to know "where are we at" and "is it not high time that we were making some changes in our business methods and practicing more economy?"

We have a faint recollection of having heard something about "out go and income" in the years ago. That was regarded as a sound business principle then, it may be "out of date" now?

We were just thinking if anybody in Mississippi ever knew of a candidate for Governor who did not claim to pitch his candidacy on a "high plane" and who did not insist that he was making "a campaign free from mudslinging and abuse"? A reward for the name of a candidate who did otherwise.

Grenada stands out prominent among the towns of Mississippi as an ideal place in which to live, and when the full meaning of this is considered, could anything finer be said of any town?

The best antidote for common evils and annoyances is the sweet and hallowed influences of a well kept and a well ordered home.

CITY COLORED SCHOOL OPENS

The City Colored School opened Monday 10th inst., with an enrollment of 300 pupils. Prof. W. W. Blackburn principal was on the job with his usual "pep" and it could easily be seen that he has the situation well in hand. Prof. Blackburn again has an able corps of assistants E. E. Banks has received special praise for her efficiency in handling the 9th and 10th grades in the last two years. Emona C. Dunham, after one year's work, has been promoted for efficiency and now has in addition to her regular classes a part of the 8th grade.

W. F. Wilson and P. B. Allen having given two years of very satisfactory service are in charge of their same grades. S. E. Walthall who has few equals in handling the little tots after having served ten years in this department begins her eleventh year.

Domestic Science will again be under the supervision of P. A. Chambliss. She makes something out of nothing.

There are two new faces on the faculty, Ruth Fisher and Sadie N. Graves. The last named aside from her regular work is prepared to teach shorthand and typewriting.

Many patrons and visitors were present at the opening prominent among whom were Revs. F. S. Smith, A. Nabors and P. A. Cantrell. Each addressed the assembly stressing the necessity of co-operation on the parts of the patrons with the teachers.

The outlook is that this will be one of the school's best and most progressive school year. XX

Frequent Headaches

"I suffered with chronic constipation that would bring on very severe headaches," says Mrs. Stephen H. Kincer, of R. F. D. 1, Cripple Creek, Va. "I tried different medicines and did not get relief. The headaches became very frequent. I heard of and took it for a headache, and the relief was very quick, and it was so long before I had another headache. Now I just keep the Black-Draught, and don't let myself get in that condition."

Thedford's Black-Draught (purely vegetable) has been found to relieve constipation, and by stimulating the action of the liver, when it is torpid, helps to drive many poisons out of your system. Biliousness, indigestion, headache, and similar troubles are often relieved in this way. It is the natural way. Be natural! Try Black-Draught.

Says Stella Vitae Gave Her Stren-Says Stella Vitae Gave Her Strength and Vitality When She Most

"There comes a time in the life of every woman who reaches middle age when she needs something to strengthen her and help her over the change, and according to my experience Stella Vitae is the very thing that will do it," said Mrs. W. A. McWilliams, a resident of Soso, Miss., the other day.

"I dreaded the time when the change of life approached, for I knew it was a critical time and I should need all the strength and vitality I could summon to meet the crisis. I began to feel weak and poorly and now and then a misery in my back and sides.

"I began at once to take Stella Vitae and I have taken quite a large number of bottles. It certainly helped me wonderfully and I experienced no unpleasant disturbance or distress during those months. Stella Vitae is surely what every woman needs and I shall always praise it."

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS ADOPTS RESOLUTIONS

The county superintendents of education at the close of their annual meeting last week adopted resolutions as follows:

1. The appropriation for common schools should be increased.

2. The school code containing all the school law, rewritten, simplified and arranged logically should be passed at the next session of the legislature.

3. In order to qualify for the office of county superintendent one should least meet the requirements of the head of a four-year affiliated high school.

4. There should be a state-wide adoption of books for the high school grades of consolidated schools and small town schools.

5. That there should be a state supervisor of primary work, office help for the county supernintendent and a supervisor of primary work in the various counties.

6. That appropriations for summer normal work should be $7500 annually, instead of $5000.

IS GAS TAX "PAINLESS?"

Good Roads Save More in Tires Than Amount of Levy, Claimed.

A set of tires costing one hundred and fifty dollars may run for ten thousand miles on average roads. The same set will run double the mileage on improved highways. The average car travels ten thousand miles per year. Therefore, the average tire cost, supposing average size and quality of tires are purchased, is $150 per year on dirt roads and $75 on fine roads.

Ten thousand miles of running, at an average of 15 miles to the gallon, requires 666 2-3 gallons of gas. If gas is taxed 2 cents a gallon, the average runner of ten thousand miles pays $13.33 per year in gas tax. In a state where there are 100,000 automobiles (which is less than the average, California, for instance, has about a million), the net income from the gas tax, above outlined, would be $1,333,000.00.

At twenty-five thousand dollars per mile, that sum will build fifty-three miles of improved highways. If there are a million cars, five hundred and thirty miles of improved highways could be built a year from the tax.

If the gas tax was 14 cents, 106 or 1,060 miles a year, respectively, could be built.

Where the roads are unimproved, the 100,000 car owners spend $7,500,000 a year on tires, which they otherwise would save. The million car owners would spend $75,000,000 on tires they otherwise would save.

Proponents of the argument say that a tax on gasoline, spent on roads is the one and only "painless tax."
